

Answer: B

- 37 At 0 K, there are no electrons in the conduction band. Since the semiconductors are doped using pentavalent atoms, n-type semiconductors are formed where the donor levels are close to the conduction band.

Answer: D

- 38 The main charge carriers in n-type and p-type semiconductor are electrons and holes