

$$= 504 \text{ g}$$

6. Answer: A

Before the barge is on top of the bridge, the bridge is supporting the water above it. When the barge is on top of the bridge, it displaces an amount of water of weight Z . By Principle of floatation, weight of barge = weight of water displaced Z . Hence the extra weight supported by the barge is zero.