

		the right.
26	C	Particle is moving in an electric field because the deflection is in the same plane as the direction of the field lines. Since the particle is deflected towards a region of lower electric potential, it is positively-charged.
27	D	At point D, the direction of the current is upwards