

		magnet. Point P is the south pole end of the solenoid.
25	C	Two parallel wires carrying currents in the opposite directions will repel one another. By Newton's third law of motion, the wires exert equal and opposite forces on one another.
26	C	The electric force on the particles acts downwards