

		due to the couple of forces acting on the object.
15	B	$\text{power} = \frac{\text{energy}}{\text{time}}$ $= \frac{\text{force} \times \text{distance}}{\text{time}}$ $= \frac{\text{mass} \times \text{acceleration} \times \text{distance}}{\text{time}}$
16	C	External force required to push mass up the slope at constant speed