

		-9.3 V
	23	C Two parallel current-carrying wires with currents in the same direction will exert an attractive force on each other. By Newton's 3rd law, the force X exerts on Y is equal in magnitude but opposite in direction to the force Y exerts on X, being action-reaction pair.
	24	D Magnitude of magnetic force on the wire