

		$\theta = 32^\circ \text{C}$
14	C	At time $t = 0$, the mass is at the amplitude position and the velocity is zero. Hence the kinetic energy of the mass is zero. In one cycle, the mass will pass the equilibrium twice with maximum kinetic energy since the velocity is maximum at equilibrium position.
15	C	For critical damping, the mass undergoes dissipative conditions such that it